Thousands see jail

Several thousand citizens toured the new Madison County jail and sheriff's headquarters Friday, Saturday and Sunday following a public dedication program attended by 200 on Friday morning.

The nearly $5 million facility is located at the county seat, Edwardsville, one block from the Madison County Courthouse.

Many said they were impressed by the evident durability of the big jail complex, an all-electric structure that will enable types of prisoners to be separated into different areas for added security and efficiency. Audio and video systems will permit internal jail "traffic" to be monitored.

The date for transfer of jail inmates from the 110-year-old existing county jail has not been set, pending a decision on adherence to jail painting specifications, delivery of electric washers and dryers, and other details. Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer welcomed the dedication gathering, introduced guests and officiated at a ribbon-cutting. The dedicatory address was delivered by

James R. Heil of the County Board. Congressman Melvin Price (D, 23rd Illinois District) spoke and presented an American flag, and State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D, 56th Legislative District) spoke and presented an Illinois state flag. Presentation of colors was by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1299 and American Legion Post 199.

Responses to the dedicatory address were voiced by Charles F. Bode, chairman of the County Building Committee of the Madison County Board, and Albert Cassens of Cassens and Sons, Edwardsville.

The national anthem was played by Musicians Local 68, with Miss Evelyn

Hope to avoid new multiplier

An increase of more than 15 percent in the scheduled real estate assessments of Granite City and Nameoki townships and a hike of almost 13 percent in Venice Township have been ordered by the Madison County Board of Review to help offset a 1.0946 countywide tentative multiplier set by the state.

As a result, there is hope that the county itself will receive a 1.0 multiplier (no multiplier) on its tax base. A negative multiplier, .8813, has been set for Chouteau Township, reflecting an extensive reassessment carried out there with the aid of the Board of Review.

The board announced Friday that it is establishing local multiplying factors to raise the county's combined assessments to a total of 33.33 percent of full, fair cash value as determined by the state Department of Local Government Affairs.

The township multipliers include 1.1589 for Nameoki, 1.1581 for Granite City and 1.1294 for the Venice-Madison area.

The office of James Barton, Madison County superintendent of assessments, said the adjustment of the local township property valuations will eliminate the tentative county multiplier of which the review board was notified last week.

If the 1.0946 state multiplier were allowed to remain, it would be

Summer negotiations by Bricklayers, Steelworkers

By HARRY BARNES
of the Press-Record

Contract talks for a new working agreement between Bricklayer union locals and mason contractors of the Southwestern Illinois Bricklayers District are to begin within the next week—including negotiation of a new agreement between the bricklayers and Granite City Steel.

All other construction crafts have contracts extending into 1981.

The principal negotiations affecting the Quad-City area this spring, and summer are those between bricklayers and contractors, and between the bricklayers and Granite City Steel and also the United Steelworkers and Granite City Steel. The latter talks will include the extent of manning for a new continuous steel slab caster that is being installed here.

Bob Weiss, president of the Southwestern Illinois Bricklayers District, which is made up of Locals 65 and 2, said today the union hopes to begin early negotiations in an effort to settle terms of a new working agreement

Meet on future of Blair

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The future of Blair Elementary School in North Venice, a part of the Madison County district, will be the topic of a meeting called for tonight at the Venice Recreation Center on Broadway.

The meeting has been called by Mrs. Angela Smith, president of the Blair School Parents Club, who fears that Blair may be scheduled for permanent closing, and opposes such a closing.

Madison County Board President Sam Dymas said, "Our board has never discussed closing of Blair School in a board meeting and I certainly know of no plans to do so. I will attend the meeting to answer any questions the parents may have."

One board member has commented that in the early stages of planning for the new Madison Middle School, which has just opened to serve the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, there were several formal and informal discussions about what to do in regard to all of the school buildings; but Blair closing was not discussed, he said.

Busy year for Venice mayor

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The month of May marks the end of the first year in office of Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols.

When asked to talk about his feelings after his first year, the generally smiling and personable mayor said with a note of seriousness, "Well, frankly, I am happy to see this housing project is going through. It has been a hard, rough road." (New apartments are to be constructed near Klein and Bissell streets.)

"The city needs the housing to relieve the overcrowding in parts of our city. We need the money from the sale of the land."

"We also need the taxes the project will bring, and we need whatever jobs this new housing will create," Echols said.

"It was basically, if not almost totally, through the efforts of the Venice mayor that the 92 apartments apparently will become a reality."

"I am also pleased that things shaped up so well and relatively fast in the area of cooperation from the City Council and from the citizens of Venice."

"We're all working hard for the same goal—and that is to make Venice the best possible place we can to live, work and raise our families," Echols commented.

"We still have not given up hope on a community center, and we have applied for a senior citizen transportation grant. I don't want to get anyone's hopes up, but we're trying. This grant, if we get it approved, will help us provide transportation for Venice senior citizens, meeting their basic transportation needs."

"We also are working with the Consolidated Aluminum Company (Conalco) in trying to get grants for a possible expansion to create some more jobs, which we need badly."

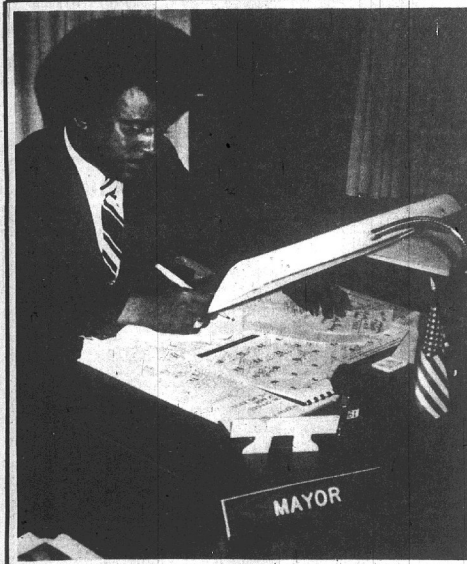

"I sure can't promise anything, except that I will work as hard as I can to help our city grow and prosper," Echols said.

If anyone wants to take a close look at how hard the mayor works, they will find he is generally at the Venice City Hall about 7 a.m., working on city business. Then he leaves to put in a full eight-hour workday on his regular job.

After he finishes his job, on his way home he stops by the City Hall and sees what has gone on during the Most of the property that is being talked about at the installation is in our city.

"I am also keeping a close ear to the ground, so to speak, on possible riverfront expansion projects and the railroad relocation project, and cooperating with other cities on mutual projects that will help us," Echols related.

The mayor mentioned the outside chance that two small industries may be attracted. They have ex-

April crimes up 18% in GC

Major crime in Granite City during April increased 18 percent over that of the same month a year ago, with virtually all of the increase in assault and burglary cases, according to a report by Chief of Police Ronald Veizer.

There was a total of 201 criminal cases in eight categories reported during the month, up 31 over the 170 cases reported during April 1979, the report shows. Among April criminal cases were 40 cases of assault, up 19 over 21 cases reported a year ago, and 58 burglaries, increased 11 over 47 burglaries in April 1979. The report listed three robbery cases last month, up from one a year ago, but showed 29 auto burglaries last month was a decrease of six from 35 cases in April 1979.

No homicide or rape cases were reported in April, but 62 larceny cases last month, down from 70 last month, down from ten.

The report showed the police department cleared 62 current cases during the month, down from 82 in April 1979, and cleared 72 other cases for a total of 134 cases cleared during the month. This compared with 80 other cases cleared in April 1979 for a total of 162 in that month.

There were no fatal accidents in the city during April, down one from a year ago, while a total of 134 accidents of all types occurred. This was a decrease of 19 below the total of 153 accidents a year ago.

These included 24 personal injury accidents in which 34 persons were injured, compared to 40 injury accidents with 56 victims during the same month a year ago. There were 110 property damage accidents last month, compared to 112 a year ago.

Traffic arrests during April totaled 241, down from 397, with 112 other arrests, down from 127. This was a total of 353 arrests last month, down from 524. Seventy-one additional charges were filed last month, making a total of 424 charges, compared to 38 additional charges and a total of 582 in April a year ago.

Non-credit instruction this summer

People who would like to add new direction to their summer plans might consider taking a non-credit course offered by the SIUE Office of Conferences and Instruction.

Expanding knowledge in bicycle repair, learning useful techniques in motorcycle riding, or becoming involved in the sport of hot air ballooning could be three ways to get a vacation off to a start.

On the ground, in the air, or just plain star gazing are options for people interested in learning more about the universe.

For those who find the night sky intriguing, classes in star gazing will be offered on Mondays from 8:30 until 10:30 p.m. in Room 1201 of Classroom Building III, beginning June 23. Instructor will be Hadi Aly, professor of physics. Registration for the five-week course is $30.

For those who want to learn how to maintain their bicycles in top condition and how to perform basic bike repairs, classes will be offered on Tuesdays from 7 until 9 p.m. in Room 1313 of Peck Classroom Building. Registration for the three-week class is $20.

A course in motorcycle riding techniques will be offered five times during June and July. Sponsored by the Illinois Department of Transportation, the workshops are offered free of charge. The course will provide a foundation of knowledge and skills for people who have never ridden as well as those who have ridden up to 10,000 miles.

Participants successfully completing the course will receive a certificate from the Motorcycle Safety Foundation which is recognized by many insurance companies for premium discount purposes. Minimum age for participation is 18 years. Motorcycles, insurance and helmets will be provided.

Course schedules are as follows: June 9-20, on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; June 10-21, on Tuesdays and Thursdays; June 23-27, on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; June 24-27, on Tuesdays and Thursdays; and July 7-12, Monday through Saturday.

All the classes meet from 5:30 until 9 p.m. in Room 0302 of Peck Classroom Building.

A ground course in hot air ballooning will be offered on Thursdays from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. in Room 1313 of Peck Classroom Building, beginning June 12. The three-week course will include an introduction to ballooning equipment, instruction in federal regulations, and other information pertinent to becoming a balloon crew member.

Instructor will be Jim Cook, an FAA certified instructor and commercial pilot. Registration is $20.

Mulchers used by gardeners

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Garden Adviser

A dry spring makes certain plants have been detected in the kidneys of diabetics. This factor becomes more important as the weather becomes warmer.

Applying mulches for moisture conservation also gives weed control. Mulching materials may be organic materials such as compost, sawdust, pine needles, wood chips, corn cobs, grass clippings, straw or peat moss; or manufactured materials such as paper, foil, black plastic or clear plastic.

The main advantages of using organic mulches are obtained in the summer, while the benefits of plastic mulches occur in early spring.

Organic mulches reduce weed growth, maintain uniform soil moisture conditions, keep the soil cool, and reduce erosion. They also reduce water requirements, nutrient and fertilizer requirements, and losses to fruit rots.

They keep fruit clean and add organic matter to the soil when turned under at the end of the growing season.

Plastic mulches have many of the same benefits but are used in early spring to promote soil warming and weed control.

Apply organic mulches in a layer thick enough to prevent weed seedlings from coming through. Fine materials such as sawdust and peat moss should be applied in a layer 1 to 2 inches deep.

Fluffy materials such as straw and hay should be applied in a layer 3 to 4 inches deep.

If you use sawdust as a mulch, increase the nitrogen fertilization 25 percent to make up for the nitrogen used in decomposition of the sawdust.

Grass clippings make a good mulch but should be dried before they are applied to the garden, or spread in a very thin layer. Fresh grass clippings when applied in a thick layer will go through a heat and give off an odor as they decay.

Straw should be clean and free of weed seed when used as a mulch.

Peat moss is expensive, and has a tendency to become water repellent. Peat moss is better when mixed in the garden soil.

Compost is one of the best organic mulches for the garden and can be easily produced by the gardener. Use mulches on the long-season crops where the full benefits of moisture retention and cleanliness can be obtained, or where weed control is needed.

Metal defects in kidneys are related to diabetes

Significantly altered levels of certain metals have been detected in the kidneys of diabetic patients, it was related at the national meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Diabetics are frequent victims of kidney damage, a well-known but poorly understood medical fact, reported Dr. Krishnaswamy S. Rajan of the IT Research Institute in Chicago, who is investigating the role of metals in this phenomenon. Levels of iron, chromium, aluminum, copper and calcium were markedly depleted in certain kidney tissues in the diabetic patients studied, while concentrations of zinc were noticeably elevated, according to Dr. Rajan and coworkers R. D. Wiehle of IT and Drs. Earl Smith and Phillip Freedman of Mt. Sinai Hospital Medical Center, Chicago.

It is known that the kidney-filtering membranes of diabetic patients undergo structural changes which, they say, allow large protein molecules to leak through.

Whether this kidney damage is a result of a cause of diabetes has not been determined, Dr. Rajan said.

The authors conducted a pilot study on the distribution of metals in kidney samples obtained from 15 autopsied normal and diabetic patients.

The metals are locked in structures called kidney basement membranes, which clean the body's circulating blood by filtering off impurities and retaining the blood components, Dr. Rajan explained.

The authors are operating on what they call a "novel hypothesis" that the levels of certain heavy metals and the way they are incorporated in these membranes may alter the kidney's filtering capacity.

This hypothesis, they say, assumes that under the possibility altered metabolic conditions in diabetes, chemical interactions between the circulating blood components (i.e. proteins and other biomolecules) and the membrane-bound metals might be taking place.

"As a result, either a depletion of some of these metals or a deposition of some of the blood-borne metals into the kidney membrane structure might occur. This, in turn, could alter not only the form and structure of the diseased kidney membranes but also its filtration characteristics," the authors state in a summary of their report.

One of the important observations of this preliminary study is that all kidney samples, normal and diabetic, do contain significant amounts of the different heavy metals, the authors say.

The presence of these metals strongly suggests the importance of the proposed metal-binding theory for an understanding of kidney structure and function, they continue.

"Further, the observed alterations in the levels of the (kidney membrane) metals, even in the small number of diabetic kidneys, appear to be consistent with our central hypothesis."

"The results of this exploratory study provide a strong stimulus for more detailed study," they conclude.

Auto Workers say offer to them differs from Milwaukee

The following letter to members of United Auto Workers Local 1715, Granite City, dated May 9, was announced Friday by President Willard Herzog.

"During the past weeks you have received several letters concerning our recent contract negotiations, from the plant manager of A. O. Smith, Mr. Paul Kelly.

"Your president and Grievance and Bargaining Committee regret very much that Mr. Kelly has chosen this method to attempt to influence you and your family, instead of accepting your union's invitation to sit down in good faith with your elected officials and engage in good faith bargaining to settle our contract dispute.

"These letters would apparently have you believe that your Grievance and Bargaining Committee turned down some kind of wonderful contract offered by A. O. Smith.

"The fact is your committee categorically disagrees with Mr. Kelly's statement that A. O. Smith has offered you a fair and equitable contract.

"We have repeatedly shown the company facts and figures to prove that the wages and so-called benefits package offered to prove that the wages and so-called benefits package offered to you in this contract are totally inadequate.

"We have repeatedly shown the company that their employees in Milwaukee, who perform the same type work you perform, who are in the same business you are in, making more money than the company has offered you in this contract.

"Further, the fringe benefits already enjoyed today by Milwaukee are far superior to the ones offered to you in this current contract.

"The fact is that Milwaukee employees not only have these benefits today but have enjoyed them for years.

"The facts are that in an effort to avoid a strike, your committee offered to settle this contract if it company would offer you a contract package comparable to what they gave their Milwaukee employees over two and one half years ago, plus increases caused by inflation during the two and one half year period since.

"The company not only said no to this fair and equitable offer of settlement, but refused to even discuss it.

"Paul Kelly did not mention these facts in his letters, nor did he mention the fact that your union committee has been sitting down with any members of management, including Paul Kelly, in good faith bargaining, with movement on both sides, in an honest effort to settle this strike.

"The company has refused this request. Mr. Kelly seems to prefer writing one sided letters, instead of face to face good faith bargaining.

"In spite of the company's repeated refusals of your committee's request, we will continue to make every effort possible to reach a fair and equitable settlement for both the company and the union.

"In the meantime, we know we can depend on your continued support."

The Grievance and Bargaining Committee consists of Herzog, Kenneth G. Beasley, Lawrence Hogan, Emil Hessel Jr. and Jerry D. Taylor.

The committee added the following comments on "some of the issues," 1980, "what the company offered you," and 1977, "what the company gave Milwaukee."

"Wages—1st year 13 cents, 2nd year 10 cents, 3rd year 10 cents.

"Versus 1st year 43 cents, 2nd year 25 cents, 3rd year 27 cents.

"Pension—30 and out at age 57 (no improvement over last contract) with lower retirement benefits than Milwaukee.

"Versus 30 and out at any age with more retirement benefits than you have, including the cost of living for retirees.

"Cost of living—You have high index of 0.33 which means less cost of living for you no improvement over last contract).

"Versus, Milwaukee has low index of 0.30 which means more cost of living for them.

"Pre-retirement survivor benefits—You have no provision to provide a monthly income or insurance for the spouse until she becomes eligible for Social Security, in the event of an employee's death prior to retirement age.

"Versus, Milwaukee does have a plan that provides a monthly income for the spouse until she becomes eligible for Social Security, in the event the employee dies prior to retirement age.

"Personal days—You have two (no improvement over last contract).

"Versus, Milwaukee has five.

"The committee concluded, 'We have listed some of the contract issues above to give you an idea of how much lower your wages and benefits are compared to Milwaukee even though you perform the same type work and work for the same company.'

"Do you think this is fair as Paul Kelly states in his letters?"

"The company also says no additional vacation time, no additional holidays and no additional personal days.

"Your committee has told the company that we are not 2nd class citizens, that we are entitled to benefits and wages comparable to those enjoyed by Milwaukee employees.

"S. Be sure your wife read this. It is important to her too."

The fire department sick leave totaled $8,716, the street department $8,700 and the sewage treatment plant $2,900 during the first quarter of the calendar year.

"I will be willing to bet that if you check this out, you will find that most of the days people are sick are Mondays or Fridays. We've got a lot of sickly employees," he continued.

Schuler said that if aldermen are concerned about the use of sick leave in any one department, they should meet with the head of that department. "I'm sure most can be justified," each department head is responsible for the sick leave taken in his department.

Honor insurance agents

Three local State Farm agents received the Legion of Honor from their company for maintaining a high level of quality business for five years.

Insurance handled must be in life, auto and home coverage areas.

The three agents are Mike Touness, Bill Frazier and Tom Thebaud.

This is the first time Granite City State Farm agents have earned this award in the district. All the Legion of Honor awards were received this year by agents from Granite City.

In addition, Joseph Hassler, Touness and Frazier where honored for writing $1 million in life insurance and earned a trip to Hawaii.

This is the second year Hassler has been in the Million Dollar Club, the fourth year for Frazier and the ninth year for Touness.

Of the 1,100 State Farm Insurance agents in Illinois 150 earned the trip.

A surprise came to Hassler in Hawaii when he found his nephew Dan Hordesky, a former Granite City school teacher and now a State Farm agent in Peoria had a room in the same hotel.

Question sick leave abuse

Nearly half of Granite City's employees have utilized some sick day benefits during the past four months and the city has spent more than $36,000 on salaries for persons who reported off sick, the Granite City Council was told at its last meeting.

Alderman Paul Fisk said he reviewed the quarterly report on sick leave and contended, "I was appalled. I think it's a waste of money."

The extensive use of sick leave by some city employees may cause a change in the city's sick leave policy, according to Alderman Warren Decatur, a member of the city's negotiating committee.

"In negotiations (with the unions representing city employees), we have discussed this. We are talking about a policy that after three days of illness in a given year, no more days will be granted without a doctor's certification. The unions, at least the police and fire unions, seem willing to go along with that," Decatur told the council.

Mayor Paul Schuler said he felt the plan was reasonable and he would like to see employees who use little or no sick leave rewarded. He suggested allowing employees to accumulate unused sick leave days toward retirement.

However, Schuler warned, "This is a problem which has built up over many years. It is not going to be solved overnight."

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said it appears employees in all city departments are taking advantage of sick leave benefits. "But when you start cutting back, you also hurt the good employees who only take sick leave when they are really sick. Most are good, conscientious workers."

Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer said he does not believe sick leave is abused by the police. "We have some men with 13 and 15 years of service who have only one or two days of sick leave. Last year, there were 15 men with perfect attendance."

"I took 136 hours of sick leave. I was in the hospital. I couldn't, but that's the way it is. I'm the best I can," Veizer said.

He explained that when a policeman calls in sick, the watch commander visits him personally and makes a written report on the visit.

Some policemen seem to use sick leave too often for very minor illnesses, "and a few are brought in and constantly reminded not to abuse sick leave," the chief said.

"When a man is in the hospital or out for a long illness, the time really builds up. There is nothing that can be done about that," Veizer added.

Mayor orders clean up of lot

Are the city's "hands tied" when it tries to deal with some obvious health hazards and eyesores? Persons attending the last meeting of the Granite City Council had that question answered.

A man who owns property in the 2000 block of Illinois Avenue told the council he has been conducting "a one-man campaign since last June to get one lot cleaned up."

The man said he contacted City Inspector Emerald Daves several times and was assured the lot would be cleaned, although trash had accumulated in it over the last five years. No attempts to contact the owner of the lot were made, the man contended, even though it is known who the owner is.

The man said he also asked Daves to have an old deteriorating tree on the property removed and Daves told him the street department would remove the wood, if he would chop the tree down, cut it up and move the wood to the curb.

"I did. I cut up the tree, even though it wasn't my property, and moved the wood to the curb where the street department took it, but I was not about to pull all of the brush out of there," he explained.

Daves said the man's allegations are true, but the city did remove two truckloads of old wood and trash from the lot one week ago. It was impossible to remove the high weeds on the lot because of the tree limbs and brush.

"We can't haul brush. The union won't let us haul brush. Manpower workers move the brush to the front of the lot for the street department to pick up, but manpower was cut off. We only have three manpower people and one truck driver and we have to make everyone happy."

Daves said he had contacted the owner of the lot, but added, "He has made no effort."

Street Superintendent Lionel Portell was asked if his department will remove the brush from the lot, so it can be mowed, and Portell said his workers can only remove brush when it is at the edge of the street. They do not work on private property, Portell said.

Mayor Paul Schuler noted there is a city ordinance which allows the city to clean a lot, if it is a health hazard, and to bill the owner for the work.

Obviously frustrated by the seeming inability of the city to even remove brush from one lot, Schuler promised the man, "You shouldn't have had to come this far. I'm sure it will be taken care of this week."

Alderman Michael Modrusic of the Seventh Ward also criticized Daves for lack of action on a lot on Saratoga Avenue where huge logs are said to be harboring rats. "The family living behind there is afraid to let their children go out and play, because they have been rats come out from under those logs," he said.

Daves said he is doing everything he can about the problem and has filed charges in court against the owner. However, he said, the city cannot remove the logs because they are too large and because the city would have to take down the fence to get to the logs.

North High accredited

Principal Gilbert Wainsley of Granite City North High School announced Friday that the school's accreditation has been extended through the 1979-80 school year following the review and approval of its annual report at the North Central Association's annual meeting. Accreditation is for one year at a time and must be renewed annually, he said.

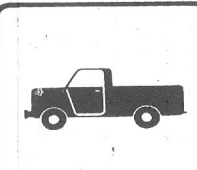

"Once every seven years each NCA school must undergo a comprehensive self-study followed by an NCA evaluation team review," Wainsley explained. "This school was last evaluated in 1974. In the interim years, a school is accredited on the basis of its report on conditions existing in the school and on such supplementary information as the Commission on Schools requests. Our report for 1979-80 assures us of ongoing NCA membership and accreditation. This accreditation means that the conditions for effective education exist in the school."

The North Central Association is the largest of the country's regional accrediting agencies. It is a voluntary league of over 4,700 schools and 860 colleges and universities in 19 states, plus the Department of Defense dependent schools throughout the world. A total of 627 schools are accredited in Illinois. The association works with individual schools to improve the quality of education through a continuous process of evaluation and accreditation.

Dr. John S. Kemp, NCA state director at the University of Illinois, congratulated North High School on its continued accreditation for 1979-80. He said the school has been a member of the North Central Association since 1973, and in those years it has been fully accredited. This should be a matter of satisfaction to the students and parents of the school, since accreditation gives assurance that the school meets those minimal yet rigorous preconditions for effective education established by the Association.

"Through this voluntary membership in the NCA, the school and people in the district have committed themselves to the pursuit of quality in education."

Intermediate heart care, rehabilitation

MEDICAL CENTER PATIENT Grayell Slusher, 2149 Lee Ave., is told of the workings of the human heart by licensed practical nurse Janetta Sparks. On his chest is a radio transmitter which links his heart with the monitor in the other photo. Telemetry is used so that a wire doesn't have to be connected between patient and monitor. However, there is a footage limit that the patient must stay within. (Press-Record photo by Pat Foley)

REGISTERED NURSE Karen Dorris monitors the Intermediate Cardiac Unit monitor, which is capable of keeping track of the heartbeats of up to 10 patients at one time. (Press-Record photo by Pat Foley)

Intensive care or regular hospital room care? Sometimes a third alternative is best for a heart patient, and as a result St. Elizabeth Medical Center has created IC-CRU, the Intermediate Cardiac Care and Rehabilitation Unit.

Known also as the ICU (Intensive Care Unit) Step-Down Program, IC-CRU is seen as the second phase of an eventual three-phase program.

The first phase is a paramedic program of initially treating cardiac arrests at the scene, communicating with the hospital by radio and then transporting the patients to the intensive care unit. The next phase is IC-CRU and the third would involve outpatient heart rehabilitation exercise.

Intermediate cardiac care and rehabilitation are provided by specially-trained nurses.

The intermediate unit's sophisticated equipment permits all patients to be monitored through a radio transmitter, without being "wired" directly to the monitor.

Skilled nursing care is given for all types of cardiac problems, and the patients also are taught about their illnesses.

The teaching includes the anatomy and physiology of the heart during a heart attack (myocardial infarction); the healing period after an attack; and the coronary heart disease risk factors associated with normal living activities.

There also is exercise-related instruction in room exercises, ambulation, and activities of daily life.

Veterans' education funding is available

More than $34 million earmarked for veterans' education payments remains unutilized, said the Administrator of Veterans Affairs Max Cleland wants the eligible group of armed forces veterans to lay claim. The money has accrued to 16,000 veterans who contributed to the Post-Vietnam Era Educational Assistance Program, or VEAP, but have yet to enroll in school or begin a program of training.

"Once a veteran starts school," Cleland said, "VA starts paying benefits."

He said the veteran triples the money paid into the program by enrolling in school. VA adds $2 for each dollar an individual pays into the program while on active military duty.

The increase is reflected in each of the veteran-student's monthly education checks. If the veteran asks for a refund in place of education checks, he receives only what he paid into the plan.

"A 3 to 1 return on their money is just one of the reasons for veterans to continue their education," Cleland said.

Eight hundred veterans are currently training under VEAP. The program succeeded the GI Bill in January 1977.

To receive this educational assistance, an eligible veteran may enroll in school, or college, or take flight training or correspondence courses.

Created by Congress in 1976, VEAP is a voluntary plan open to military members who entered the service for the first time after Dec. 31, 1976.

Those who elect to participate contribute by monthly allotments from their military pay. Deductions may be between $50 and $75.

More than 200,000 active duty personnel have contributed to it.

Educational payments can be made to participants on active duty after they complete the first obligated period of service. After separation, a veteran with at least 181 days of service may be eligible.

A veteran with a service-connected disability may be able to waive that period.

Participants who elect to have the maximum allotment, $75 per month, deducted from their pay during a three-year enlistment may receive $8,100 in educational benefits, a $2,700 individual contribution plus $5,400 added by VA.

The $8,100 will be paid in 36 installments of $225 for each month of full-time college or vocational-technical school completed.

Total benefits can exceed $8,100, since some military services give education bonuses from $2,000 to $9,000 for certain enlistment options.

Toll-free lines to VA regional offices in all 50 states are available for information on the program.

YELLOW RIBBON AT THE MANSION

Mrs. Jayne C. Thompson has tied a yellow ribbon around an old sugar maple on the Illinois Executive Mansion lawn as a symbol of hope that the U.S. citizens being held hostage in Iran will come safely home soon. First Ladies from other states and First Lady Rosalynn Carter participated in similar symbolic actions as a demonstration of nationwide solidarity and support.

In memory of the eight men who died in the rescue attempt, Governor James Thompson has directed that U.S. flags and State of Illinois flags at all state installations remain at half-staff until the hostages in Iran are released.

Miss Suzy Neubauer of Granite City was given special recognition at the final concert of the current season given by the Highland High School Vocal Department. Miss Neubauer, who serves as choreographer for the Swing Choir, was presented with a montage plaque featuring the various dance sequences performed by the group under her direction.

The Swing Choir consists of 22 members who are selected by auditions. The choir was awarded a first place in the Illinois High School Association statewide contest held in Kaskaskia in March.

Miss Neubauer has served as choreographer since January and has been requested to return in September to begin working with the Swing Choir for the 1980-81 school year. Auditions for this new group were held on May 12, with judging by Miss Neubauer and Mrs. Marjory Clayton, vocal director of the Highland Community School District.

Miss Neubauer is completing her freshman year at SIUE where she is a special education and theater with dance emphasis major. She has also served as teacher's assistant in jazz, and was a member of the Cougar Guard and the University Ambassadors. She is the Modern computer aiding travelers

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

It's a computer age and travel services are keeping up with the times.

The latest available computer to aid the traveler, the TWA Pars Computer, has been put into operation at Creative Travel Center, 3910 Nameoki Road, offering the would-be traveler a wealth of up-to-date information.

Creative Travel has the only Pars computer in the Quad-City area, Don Watson, operator of the business, explained.

Not only does the computer list flight times for all airlines to all destinations, continental and overseas, it also can answer a multitude of questions travelers may want to ask.

"What nightclub shows are playing in Las Vegas?" It's easy with the computer. By pressing a few buttons, the full listing of shows appears on the television screen. The same with Broadway plays, nightlife in Miami and entertainment in other cities.

"What will the weather be like at my destination?" Weather forecasting has not become a computer science, yet, but the Pars computer will tell you what the weather is like now, complete with the temperature, in Fahrenheit and Celsius, no less, and tell you what is anticipated.

Currency exchange rates are posted each Tuesday and updated daily, if necessary. One pound is worth $2.2815, until tomorrow, in case anyone is interested.

If the exchange rate for some currencies is confusing, the government has a base value number for each type of currency which can be used for comparing the relative values of any two currencies, in case you are traveling from France to Germany, for example. Of course, the computer also gives you the updated government base number for each currency.

Still, the most important function of a travel agency is to get you where you are going and to be sure your accommodations are ready when you get there. The Pars computer offers quicker service in this regard than most other systems.

For the traveler, it is a little more complicated than saying, "Get me a flight to Las Vegas Friday morning." All the direct flights from St. Louis to Las Vegas are shown on the screen for the traveler's consideration, showing times of departure and arrival. All major airlines are included in the listing.

Touching a few more buttons changes the screen to those flights which can be taken, if the traveler is willing to change planes enroute.

The computer also tells what type of aircraft is to be used for each flight and gives the various fares for first class, commuter, night, special fares and others.

Once the flight has been selected, the traveler may choose the seat he wants on some airlines. For TWA flights, the computer offers boarding passes, eliminating the necessity to check in at the airport. A traveler who has his boarding pass can drop his luggage at the front of the airport with a redcap and can go directly to the gate from which the flight is departing.

Once the flight and seat have been selected, a push of a button sets a complicated series of computer connections operating which result in a ticket being printed on the spot. The time between when the button is pushed and the ticket is done is about seven seconds, according to Watson.

All of the computer services and reservations are available at no cost to the traveler. Travel agencies operate on rebates from the carriers, hotels and motels, it was explained.

Watson said he will be happy to demonstrate the TWA Pars computer to anyone coming to the office. It offers almost everything the traveler needs with the most modern computer technology.

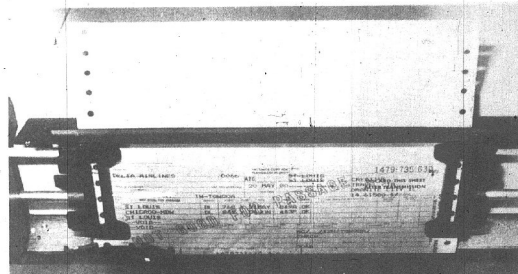

Now, if science would invent transporter rooms, like those used in Star Trek, we could just disappear from the travel agency and reappear at the airport. That would be handy.

78 DELEGATES TO FAMILY CONFERENCE
Governor James R. Thompson has named 78 delegates to the White House Conference on Families June 19-21 in Minneapolis. The agenda is directed toward development of strategy to support and strengthen families across the nation.

The Minneapolis gathering will include Illinois and 14 other states, with about 60 delegates participating. Two other conferences will be held in Baltimore and Los Angeles.

IN TOUCH WITH THE WORLD, Mary Coy of Creative Travel Center operates the new computer which offers a wide variety of information, in addition to making airline and motel reservations. Offerings of the computer include worldwide weather information, currency exchange rates, nightclub and theater offerings in major cities, flights, fares and other information. The service is available at no cost to travelers. (Press-Record Photo by Gary Schneider)

INSTANT TICKETS are printed by computer for airline travelers by the first TWA Pars computer in this area at Creative Travel Center. Seven seconds after a request for a flight, seat assignment and boarding pass is entered in the computer, the ticket is printed.

Double-digit doses of inflation on a regular basis cause just about everybody to question the viability of an economic system which allows that to happen. We hear a barrage of questions like, "What's happened?" "Why hasn't the system corrected inflation?" "Will it ever end?" etc.

Unfortunately, the answers are not as easy as the questions. In a free enterprise system, there will always be swings of the economic pendulum — prices go high ... profits are up ... the new competitors are attracted ... prices and profits go down. So why isn't it working like that? Most economists who advocate the free enterprise system say the culprit is government's tinkering with the economy. They argue that free enterprise should operate with the emphasis on FREE: Controlled-free enterprise is a contradiction in terms. You can't have "control" and "free" both describing the same economy. It needs to be one or the other.

We've seen evidence that the "free" will work. It built the greatest nation with the highest living standard in the history of the world. FREE enterprise is still the best system. You Can BANK On It!

American Bank lists promotions

Officers of the American Heritage Bank announced last week a series of promotions and changes in officer status, following the May meeting of the board of directors.

The following changes were listed:
Robert H. Karandjeff, formerly vice-president and cashier, was appointed executive vice-president and cashier.

Charles J. Baricevic, formerly vice-president, was appointed senior vice-president.

Frank J. Palank was advanced from assistant vice-president to vice-president.

Jon R. Teague was advanced from assistant cashier to assistant cashier and auditor.

Norma McCormick was appointed assistant cashier.

Also announced was the appointment of Mavis Carter to the position of secretary to the chairman and president.

Announcement also was made of a new convenience service available to American Heritage customers and other individuals in the Granite City Community Group area (Group No. 10722) who are covered under the Blue Cross-Blue Shield hospitalization plans. Premiums may now be paid at the bank or mailed to the bank. Complete information is available at American Heritage Bank.

Plan fee system for baseball lighting

The Granite City Park Board of Commissioners, during a special meeting last week, unanimously approved the annual treasurer's report submitted by Frank Rea.

The manner in which the park district will collect fees for use of the lights at the Granite City High School South baseball diamond on Fehling Road was finalized during the meeting.

The district annually manages the diamond during the summer months, but this is the first year that the diamond has been lighted.

A motion was made and passed to have those using the lights to pay the park district by check made out to the Granite City school district. The park district will then act as the middle man and turn over checks for this purpose to the school district.

Several complaints about dust being stirred up on the parking lot at the ice rink have been received from area residents. The board is inquiring about costs involved to have the ice rink lot and all other parking lots and walkways oiled and chipped.

Complaints about a number of dogs not on leashes being in Wilson Park was discussed by the board which ordered that signs be posted along the periphery of the park stating that all dogs must either be on a leash or muzzled. Security guards will begin enforcing the park district ordinance with all violators being cited.

A representative of the M.B. Corlew and Associates engineering firm presented preliminary designs for improvements to the West Granite Park.

An application for a Lawton grant from the Illinois Department of Conservation will be made in July to cover 50 percent of the funds needed for the improvements. Tennis courts, a basketball court, two playgrounds—toddler and intermediate categories—walkways and landscaping is being planned.

Bus route office to close 2 days

Bi-State bus route and schedule information telephone number will not be operational on May 31 or June 1. Don Schmitt, director of transit information, is urging people to call ahead for information they might need those two days.

"The telephone lines will be out," Schmitt said, "so we can install a new automatic call distributor. The equipment we currently have is old and we lose calls because it overloads when the lines fill up."

Schmitt's operation handles over one million calls a year for information. "We'll be back in operation June 2," he said, "and the information number will remain the same—773-1120."

But Bi-State's general switchboard number will be changed. As of June 2, Quad-Cityans may call 982-1408 for Bi-State's general offices.

Bike-A-Thon reset June 1

An area Bike-A-Thon sponsored by the Gamma Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority to benefit the Lewis-Clark Lung Association has been rescheduled for Sunday, June 1.

The event, originally set for May 18, was cancelled due to excessive dampness. Bikers should register at 1 p.m. Sunday at the downtown Alton Riverfront Park Circle, with the ride starting at 2 p.m.

Participants are being urged to secure sponsors who are willing to pay so much per mile for each mile ridden by the individual.

Sponsor sheets may be obtained by calling the Lung Association at 1-264-7428, or from Burger Chef restaurants.

Shrine clowns will be on hand to entertain on their mini-bikes at the start of the ride.

Two 10-speed bicycles will be awarded to the persons collecting the most money, and riding the most miles, the organizers said.

Mailbox Improvement Week

"It's time to do something for your winter-weary friend, the mailbox," says Postmaster Jack D. Wilkins "and the perfect time to do it is during Mailbox Improvement Week, May 26-31."

Residents of Granite City are being urged to examine their mailboxes to determine whether they have been damaged during the winter by weather or vandalism — particularly those located along rural routes.

"Some boxes may only need painting," says Wilkins. "Others may need to be replaced. Mailbox Improvement Week is a good time to decide the best way to improve your mailbox. A damaged or improperly placed box will make it difficult for rural letter carriers to leave that special letter or package."

The Postal Service does not restrict customers to a specific type of mailbox, but does say that all boxes — whether standard or custom-made — must meet certain specifications for size, strength and location. Many approved commercial mailbox designs are available for use with decorative posts. Customers may check with their post office for specifications.

"It am reminding people that the mailbox regulations have been written with safety and efficiency in mind," Postmaster Wilkins said. "You should not use massive farm equipment or heavy objects like plows and milk cans filled with cement to hold up mailboxes."

"Supports of this type are potential accident hazards. They can damage vehicles and cause serious injury to people who accidentally strike them."

THEFT FROM HOME
Sometime between 5 a.m. Wednesday and 12:30 a.m. today, tools, a tool box, Polaroid camera, hair dryer, Coleman lantern and stove, rods and reels and meat from the refrigerator were taken from the home of Kenneth Austin, 112 Granville St., Venice.

Venice pupils show coins, stamps

The fifth grade class at the Venice Elementary School under the direction of Dr. Alice Purdes, recently completed a unit on stamps and coins during a "Trip Around the World" segment in reading class.

"We use Open Court textbooks in our school and our particular reader just happens to be entitled, 'A Trip Around the World,'" Dr. Purdes said.

The background from previous readings throughout the year, added impetus to the study of stamps and coins from all over the world, she explained.

The school library served to add enrichment to the program as the students learned to research such topics as birds, musicians, holidays, important persons, presidents, transportation, U.S. mintage regulations and U.S. stamp circulation and regulations.

A trip to the Main Post Office in St. Louis provided an opportunity, especially for those interested in stamps and their practical application, to see an urban area post office in full operation.

Student displays were judged on the basis of research information, artistic arrangement, originality and neatness.

First place trophy for "Best of Show" this year was awarded to Joyce McDonald for her display of "Christmas Stamps."

First place blue ribbons for stamps were awarded to Ronnie McCoy, Carl Townsend and Chris Corethers.

First place blue ribbons for coins were awarded to Darrell Buie, Tammy Foster, Meishel Matkins, Sheila Smith, Lonnie Speights and Lynn Hartley.

Second place red ribbons were awarded to Natalie Ball and Kenneth Campbell.

Comments by Dr. Purdes on this type of program appear in the book, "Educators Desk Book of Ideas and Activities From Award Winning Teachers." The illustrated book, written by Ruth Anne Tschudin, was published this year and the author sent an autographed copy to the Venice teacher.

Dr. Purdes, winner of the Madison County Teacher of the Year award in 1978, was interviewed by Miss Tschudin in 1977.

Day college counselors on duty this week, next

Counselors are at BAC's Granite City Center, 2600 W. 20th St., today, Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

They will also be available at the Granite City daytime class center on June 2, 3 and 4 during those hours to help students plan their academic programs.

Students may enroll for summer classes, which begin June 9 in Granite City, or for the fall courses to be taught here.

This (1979-80) is the first year daytime classes have been taught by Belleville Area College in Granite City.

Ten college transfer courses are scheduled for the West 20th Street building for the summer term.

Larry Schmalenberger, Granite City director, has encouraged students who are just graduating from high school to take their basic English, psychology, or sociology class this summer, whether they plan to enroll regularly at BAC or at another college or university.

These basic courses, he pointed out, transfer readily to other colleges.

Having completed them will allow students to take other courses they are interested in, or to take a lighter load their first semester as full-time college students, he added.

Schmalenberger said students interested in taking the basic rhetoric and composition course must take an English placement test first.

That test will be given from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. on June 3, a Tuesday.

A financial aid officer will also be at the Granite City Center on June 3, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Students who enroll at BAC in Granite City will not have to travel to the main campus in Belleville for textbooks. Books will be sold here from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. the first two days of class, June 9 and 10.

Courses to be taught this summer in Granite City are: introduction to business, business mathematics, principles of accounting I, real estate transactions, rhetoric and composition, medical terminology (both a one-credit and three-credit course will be taught), emergency medical technician training, general psychology, and introductory sociology.

Further information may be obtained by calling the BAC-Granite City office, 876-7948.

Wilkins graduates from Westminster

George Thomas Wilkins III, the son of Dr. and Mrs. George T. Wilkins Jr., 27 Glen Echo Drive, Edwardsville, received his bachelor of arts degree during the Westminster College commencement ceremonies held last week on the campus in Fulton, Mo.

The former Granite Cityan, who majored in economics and business administration, was president of the college's Interfraternity Council.

He was an Interfraternity Council justice, parliamentarian of Kappa Alpha, a social fraternity on campus, and a member of the Skulls of Seven, a select senior honor society. He was recently named to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

He is also a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, a national honorary leadership society.

As members of the class of 1980, Westminster seniors retraced their steps through the historic columns on campus in the traditional Columns Ceremony that preceded the college's 126th Commencement. Four years ago, as freshmen, the Columns Ceremony had symbolized the beginning of their undergraduate careers, and last week's ceremony symbolized the end.

Organ program by Phil Spence

Phil Spence, operator of the L.P. Music Co. in Highland, will be the featured entertainer at the Metro East Organ Society's Sunday, June 1, meeting. It will be a pot luck supper at the home of Mrs. Mary Hartman in Collinsville.

Spence will present a program of popular and jazz music and will include a discussion of the 7th chord. He will play requests by the members and possibly improvise melodies or songs from members' telephone numbers.

Spence began his musical career at age nine when he started taking piano lessons, with his professional career starting at age 14. After 42 years of learning and performing, Spence says he is still "learning," as he has been attending SIUE for two years working on majors in composition, theory and music education.

He attended the jazz workshops presented this year by the university, featuring Earl "Fatha" Hines and Teddy Wilson. Spence gives private lessons on several instruments and makes some personal appearances, but he generally avoids the night club circuit now.

Meeting set to determine levee damage

Trustees of the Metro-East Sanitary District have scheduled a meeting at 4 p.m. Tuesday, May 27, with representatives of SCA Services in an effort to determine the extent of damage to the Cahokia Canal levee behind Route 203 south of Granite City.

The meeting originally was scheduled Wednesday, but district trustees said the company representatives failed to appear for the discussion.

Tuesday's meeting will be held in the Granite City office at 1801 Madison Ave. District officials have charged SCA Services with removing dirt from the Cahokia Canal levee to use as cover for the company's landfill which lies between Horseshoe Lake and Interstate 70.

Sanitary District engineers are making a survey of the levee to determine how much dirt has been removed. Some officials say between 150,000 and 200,000 cubic yards of dirt were removed at a loss of more than $500,000 at today's cost of from $5 to $7 per yard.

District officials have said a suit will be filed to recover the loss.

Zoning hearings here tomorrow

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold two on-site public hearings in Quad-City area townships Wednesday morning, including a hearing on zoning for a tavern in Eagle Park Acres.

The board will first meet near the end of Alton Avenue in the Cloverleaf Addition of Nameki Township at 9:50 a.m. tomorrow where R. B. Moran and Donald G. and Sandra Smith are requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home. The property is zoned R-4 for single-family residential use.

At 10:05 a.m. Wednesday, the board will meet at 217 Roosevelt St., Eagle Park Acres, where William Guthrie and Rosetta Watts are requesting rezoning for a one-acre tract of land from R-4 residential to B-1 limited business zoning to establish a tavern. The property crosses the Nameki-Venice township line.

TRASH PICKUP
Due to the Monday observance of Memorial Day, trash and garbage pickup will be delayed one day. Milan-East Division of SCA Services resumed pickups today and will continue on the one-day late schedule. Friday's pickups will be made on Saturday.

Scout Troop 7 service project

Boy Scouts of Troop 7, St. Joseph's Catholic Church, participated in a clean-up project to aid McDonald's Restaurant.

Scouts departed from St. Joseph's and biked to the area to clean the restaurant lot. Among the trash the scouts cleared, money was found, and the scouts say they learned from this what carefulness with trash can do.

After the project was completed, John Winkle, manager, treated the scouts to all they could eat.

Attending the service project were Steve Kusmierczak, Phil Kimbrel, Reuben Garcia, David Gushoff, Chris Siede, Keith Unfried, Kevin Williamson, William Falbe, Richard Schierling, Mark Brasel and Jim Harper.

Work in service projects is planned along with hikes, outings and camping. The McDonald's project met partial requirements for the scouts to earn skill awards and merit badges.

New multipliers

received a negative multiplier of .9740. A public hearing is planned for 10 a.m. June 20 at the Madison County Courthouse.

Property sales over a three-year period are considered in determining actual real estate values, and the inflationary rate has made it difficult for township assessors to keep pace with current prices in their record books.

Granite City Township's complete home and business reassessment program, nearing an end this spring, could lead to a 1 multiplier or possibly a negative multiplier a year from now.

The newly-announced township multipliers affect this summer's billing and were delayed due to a high volume of assessment protests that the review board has been considering.

Real estate tax collections may extend into the fall, a potential problem for local-level governmental agencies that normally expect such receipts during the summer.

However, the business income tax boost—enacted as a replacement for the corporate personal property tax—is being distributed to the local taxing bodies earlier than the tax it replaced. The former individual personal property tax was eliminated years ago.

In a special board meeting held Thursday on personnel matters, the board rehired all administrators, all regular full and part time custodians, the maintenance supervisor and his helper, all regular secretaries and clerks, clerical aides, cooks, the cafeteria director, security personnel, the attendance officer and van driver, provided each individual does not resign or retire.

All regular substitute teachers, teaching aides, custodians and cooks already have been added to the 1980-81 list to work, provided they have not resigned or retired.

In summary, the Venice mayor sees an uphill fight for the city taxpayers. But he is confident that "with everyone working together, the future of Venice is still bright."

necessary for the county clerk's office to revise every property valuation in the county by applying the multiplying factor, it was noted; in addition, that approach would result in unfairness due to disparities between the various townships.

Through multipliers, the board so far has certified assessment increases in 16 of the county's 24 townships and reduced the valuations in two townships, including the reduction in Chouteau.

The largest increase was in Leef Township, where the real estate valuation was increased 25 percent. New Douglas received 1.227 but Alton white student, according to school officials.

The Illinois State Board of Education has granted the Madison district provisional approval of its integration progress, effective until July 1980. School authorities have been talking with state officials on several options and alternatives regarding school buildings' enrollment makeup.

District officials assert that substantial progress has been made in grouping all the students of the same age into a single attendance center, such as at Madison High School or the pressed interest in locating in Venice, but "everything is just in the talking stage at present," he said.

Echols began his duties on April 24, 1979, when Acting Mayor Phillip Daniels called the Venice City Council meeting to order and announced the first item of business would be administering the oath of before the existing masonry contract expires Aug. 1.

Weis said discussions will begin in about a week between union representatives and approximately 150 mason contractors in the seven counties of Local 65 and ten counties served by Local 2.

One of the first meetings in the upcoming bricklayer negotiations will be held at 2 p.m. today when he and union negotiators meet with representatives of Granite City Steel in preliminary talks concerning a new working agreement for union bricklayers employed at the firm's blast furnace plant.

Details of contract items were not disclosed pending preparation of contract proposals which will be submitted in the early sessions.

Meanwhile, a new working agreement for teamsters has been worked out on a statewide basis.

The Teamsters' Union contract was negotiated through the Southern Illinois Builders Association, involving all truck locals in the construction field throughout the state, except Chicago, according to Wayne Barber, executive director of the SIBA.

Barber said the new pact calls for a total wage increase of $3.95 per hour over a three-year period, with $1.35 an hour the first year and $1.30 per hour in each of the following two years. The cost of fringe benefits is included in the total amount of the increase of $3.95, Barber said.

Most contracts for workers in the highway and heavy construction field are negotiated by the SIBA.

None of the remaining construction agreements expire this year.

The SIBA negotiates contracts with the Teamsters, Carpenters' Council, Laborers' Union, Ironworkers, and Operating Engineers. Contracts with all of those except the Teamsters will expire July 1, 1981, Barber said.

Stoovers discuss travels to the Mediterranean

Members of Travelers Abroad met last week to hear a lecture by Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Stoever, who discussed their trip to the western end of the Mediterranean.

Because of its strategic location, the dominance of the area has been important for several centuries. The area is known as Europe's outpost.

The Azores Islands near Portugal are of volcanic origin with buildings and fences built with lava. Portugal depends on these islands for beef and dairy goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoever also visited the Madeira Islands in the North Atlantic. Major vegetation in these islands are grapes for wine, bananas and plants from which wicker furniture and baskets are made.

On the Spanish coast is Cadiz, from where Columbus sailed on his second trip. The couple toured the city of Malaya, the birthplace of Picasso.

Tangier, on the tip of Africa, is a city of lush greenery, outdoor shops and narrow streets, the speakers related. Gibraltar, the British fortress and duty-free port, measures only two and one half miles square. Edmund Firner provided music appropriate to the program. While giving their lecture the Stoovers presented a slide program.

Rev. Weaver is special guest

President Juanita Crawley presided at the meeting of the YMCA Senior Citizens. The Rev. Phillip Weaver and his wife and son were special guests.

Rev. Weaver sang several songs and gave the invocation. He is the assistant pastor of Grace Baptist Church.

It was noted that the awards dinner for the Retired Senior Volunteer Program will be held at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville June 6. Reservations are being taken at the YMCA.

A potluck dinner was served to 46 members with bingo and quilting following.

The group met at Nameoki United Presbyterian Church with Donna McBride and Ruth Netz serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Susan Gasparovic and Mrs. Judy White presented a program dealing with the establishment of the Alpha Center for Women.

A $60,000 fund raising effort currently is underway to finance the center, which will be used as a shelter-type home for mothers-to-be. A building at 2104 Cleveland Blvd., recently has been purchased to house the center and presently is being remodeled. The speakers said.

Club members discussed ways of providing assistance and agreed to hold a pantry shower at the June meeting as their initial effort. Kitchen items will be collected at the event.

Faith Holsinger, president, conducted the business sessions and a report was given by Rose Ann Bates, recording secretary.

The group also discussed a report from the Tri-City Area YMCA, concerning a "Children's Enrichment Program," scheduled for the summer months and a Schuck's luncheon project.

Mrs. Holsinger said projects for the summer and early fall months were reviewed at a meeting of the club executive board, held earlier at the home of Jo Ella Harris.

Other members at the general meeting were Donna Price, Gale McFarland, Donna Sprinkle, Linda Gordon, Pam Reed, Jo Ella Harris, Flora Mae Lensing, Sarah Repp, Sue Riess, Linda Badger, Paula Weaver, Janet Warren, Brenda Weekman, Karen Nisbur, Joyce Curran, Joan Wachter and a guest, Frances Tingley.

Sunshine Class makes donations

Donations were authorized by the Sunshine Class at its meeting Tuesday at Second Baptist Church.

"Heavenly Sunshine" was the opening song and prayer requests followed.

The devotional was presented by a guest, Mary Dano, and prayers were offered by Margaret Newberry and Betty Lewis. In the business session, a financial report was read and programs were reviewed.

Refreshments were served to those mentioned and to Evelyn Smith, Esther Davis, Eleanor Cook, Margaret Culpepper, Gladys Huggins, Dorothy Barnes and Norma Rains.

Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Deaver of Edwardsville.

Firemen's auxiliary to buy shirts

During a meeting at the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department hall last week, members of the Mitchell Firemen's Ladies Auxiliary made plans to purchase uniform shirts for members. The group also agreed to purchase shirts for those on the auxiliary's softball squad.

Paula Turner, vice president, was in charge and roll call was taken by Earlene Lee, secretary.

A financial report was read by Madeen Cook, treasurer, who also collected dues.

It was voted to buy materials to make a quilt, and several fund-raising events were suggested and discussed.

Pam Filkins, who hosted the meeting, volunteered to seek a location for a car wash, to be scheduled during the summer months.

Others at the session were Cathy Copper, Debbie Sander, Sue Reinhardt and Ruby Jones.

Former operators hold 22nd reunion

Former telephone operators in Granite City held their 22nd annual reunion last week in the banquet rooms at Ravanello's Restaurant.

In charge of arranging the event were Paula Smith, Shirley McGovern and Diana Scherrills.

Entertainment was furnished by Flip Janice, Darron and Sean McGovern, the sons and daughter-in-law of Mrs. McGovern, who played guitar and sang.

Named to plan next year's reunion were Virginia Unfried, Fay Wilson, Daisy Burnett and Betty Kennerly.

Among those attending from out-of-town were Alice Ehret, Earlene Hughes, Sandy Pinkle, Fern Pluff, Catherine Powers, Helen Crain, Helen Serth, Frieda Winter, Pat Schmierbach, Lucille Youngberg and Mrs. Stirling.

Tough day for Quad-Cityans at state meet

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

CHARLESTON — For Granite City South and Madison High's representatives at the annual IHSAA State Track and Field meet here Friday and Saturday at Eastern Illinois University, it was a study in frustration. One thing after another went wrong for Quad City athletes. What it all added up to was no South Warriors or Madison Trojans in the finals Saturday afternoon.

Proviso East and Waukegan East tied for the Class 2A (large school) team championship, while Chicago Luther South edged Metropolis 32-28 for the Class 1A (small school) championship.

But for Madison (1A) and Granite South (2A), nothing seemed to go right. First, there was Madison's Troy Butler. One of the area's top leapers, he qualified for the state finals in both the long jump and triple jump. He was the Red Bud District champion in the triple jump and finished second in the long jump. But all the first place finishes in the world couldn't help him Friday morning from the nemesis of all athletes, injury.

Butler — on his very first long jump attempt — pulled a thigh muscle. "It's pretty painful," said Madison coach Charles Steptoe as he applied tape to Butler's leg. "And on his very first jump, too. Can you believe that?"

But Butler wasn't going to give up. He ran a bit on his reconstructed leg and decided to give his specialty, the triple jump, a try. "I'm gonna jump," he said. "It hurts some, but I'll just have to try and put it out of my head."

Then there was South's Dave Houston. He went into the state finals with the second-fastest district qualifying time in the state, 4:16.2. But the field proved to be a bit too much for the angular senior. Even though he led the first two laps of the qualifying race late Friday afternoon, his time was not good enough to move him on in the competition. "Just getting to state is the big thing," South coach Mel Bunting said. "He did his best and made it here under some pretty trying circumstances. I'm proud of him."

Granite South's Steve Adams found his imaginary barrier too much to conquer Friday, too. The senior pole vaulter vaulted 13 feet in the qualifying rounds Friday.

But that next height... Adams couldn't clear the bar at 13'6" in his effort to advance to Saturday's final round. That height has been an imaginary opponent all season. "I've cleared it in practice," said Adams. "In fact, I cleared it today in the warmups. I felt sure I'd get it, no sweat. But after I just missed on the first attempt, the other two weren't nearly as good."

Granite City South's Mike Konzen was a state qualifier in the shot put. But his preliminary round distance of 15.58 meters was not good enough to advance him to the finals.

Madison's 1600 (mile) and 800 meter relay teams advanced to the 1A finals, but failed to advance from the preliminary round Friday. The Trojans' preliminary time in the 1600 meter relay was 3:33.15.

IN FRONT. Granite City South's Dave Houston (right) leads the pack in his heat of the 1600 meter (mile) run Friday at the state high school track meet at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston. However, Houston couldn't hold on and finished seventh, failing to qualify for Saturday's finals. He and two other South Warriors, as well as seven Madison Trojans qualified for the trip to the state finals.

Steelers whip Oilers in regional semi's

By KEVIN ALLEN
Of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North's regional semi-final game of was barely over Saturday night and coach Bob Stegemeier was already itching for the championship game. "I wish our pitchers were all rested and the game was tomorrow," he said.

But that's what a 9-1 victory will do to a guy.

The Steelers eased into tonight's championship game against the Edwardsville Tigers with convincing win over Wood River. A win that featured a couple of strong pitching performances and consistent hitting — the way they do it at North.

The Steelers produced their nine runs on seven hits, but five of the runs came in the first inning during which North had only one hit. Few questions remained after that.

"North's just got a hex over us or something," Wood River coach Norris Dorsey said. "They've beaten us something like seven times in a row. It's something. Even with all the power hitters they have, in the first inning they didn't even hit the ball out of the infield and they scored five runs."

Mike Robertson led off the first with an infield single. A succession of two walks and two Wood River errors followed, and by the time nine batters had gone to the plate and five had crossed it, North was in command.

"I figured the (Wood River) would be sky high after they beat Alton in the first game of the regional," Stegemeier said. "Maybe they were too high. They made some mistakes and we scored some cheap runs."

Cheap or not, the Steeler offense supplied starting pitcher Steve Doty more than enough support, because Doty was superb.

Through four innings the tall, blond right-hander gave Wood River only two hits.

The first was by Phil Roggio, the second batter of the game, and the second was also by Roggio in the fourth. In fact, Wood River managed only one other base runner while Doty was on the mound. Rich DuPatz went to second in the fourth inning, while Roggio was at third, comprising the Oilers' most serious threat against Doty.

"Steve threw really well," Stegemeier said. "He could have finished easily, but we wanted him available Tuesday."

Stegemeier replaced Doty with Keith Burton in the fifth. But North lost little, if anything, in the process. Burton took over where Doty finished, allowing only two more hits the rest of the game.

One of those hits, though, cost North the shut-out. In the sixth, after Roggio again reached base — this time via a walk — DuPatz doubled off the left-field fence. Roggio scored from second. But by that time North had built a 9-1 lead.

The Steelers scored again in the second when Bob Ford doubled. Bob Batey home from first, and added two more runs in the third on Robertson triple which chased home both Rob Chapman and Doty.

"I didn't say anything to our guys before the game about the curse," Dorsey said. "Maybe I should have. I think we're capable of playing with them if we play like we can. But that's no excuse. They're just an excellent ball club."

Just how excellent North is will be determined tonight. Edwardsville, who advanced to the championship game by downing Bethalto Civic Memorial, 1-0, has already beaten the Steelers three times this season.

"I told our kids I would really like to get a fourth shot at them," Stegemeier said. "And this is probably the way the tournament should have worked out. I think the two best clubs are in the finals."

Adams, Houston 'go to the limit' before bowing out

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

CHARLESTON — Steve Adams relaxed in the grass of Eastern Illinois University's O'Brien Field. And waited. And thought.

Dave Houston mingled with other area athletes. He sat in the stands. And waited. And thought.

Adams and Houston were two of the three athletes Granite City South had advanced to the state high school track meet Friday at EIU. Adams' specialty was the pole vault. Houston was one of the area's best hopes in the mile (1600 meter) run. South's other state qualifier was Mike Konzen in the shot put.

The circus-like atmosphere was a bit different from what the two were used to. But then, it was different from what all the participants were used to. Thousands of people in the stands. Radio interviews on the field. A press box full of reporters. Even state-wide television coverage of Saturday's finals.

CHARLESTON — The torch has been passed. The order is gone.

The shadow of East St. Louis Senior High was finally rubbed out here Friday and Saturday at the annual Illinois High School Association track and field meet at Eastern Illinois University.

The East St. Louis Flyers, who won or shared four of the last five Class 2A (large school) championships and finished second last season, finished a dismal 16th with a mere 12 points. East St. Louis Lincoln, the Belleville East District champion and supposed challenger for this year's title, finished 12th with 17 points.

Adams didn't let the crowds bother him. He shut them out. Houston didn't mind the throngs of people in the stands. In fact, he liked it.

East St. Louis coach Gordon Schohy was disappointed. "I'd be less disappointed if I'd thought the team went out there and competed like they did all year," he said. "They just didn't have the fighting spirit out there I like to see."

Schohy added something that will disappoint area coaches.

"The only good thing is that most of the team will be back," he said. Should we get ready for another torching?

The Class 2A championship was shared by Proviso East and Waukegan East, each with 40 points. Next in line were Thoraridge and Chicago Phillips. Cahokia was the only other area school to finish with any points. The Camanches, mainly on the strength of Alan Hibbler's performance in the triple jump, finished with six points in 40th place. Hibbler finished a surprising third in the triple with a leap of 14.32 meters. Larry Streeter of Chicago Phillips was the event champion with a distance of 14.86 meters.

Chicago Luther South, repeated as class 1A (small school) champion. The Braves, who also won the 1A basketball championship in March, outdistanced powerful Metropolis 32-28. Mahomet-Seymour — was third with 25. Freeburg was fourth with 22.

—PETE HAYES

"When the crowd gets into the mile run, it's something," said Houston. "It sort of gets me up and makes me do better."

"I really don't let it bother me," said Adams. "I guess if anything, it makes me perform better."

Corral splits Inter-City doubleheader with Red Sox

GRANITE CITY — It looked for a moment somewhere along the fifth or sixth inning of Granite City's Corral Liquors' Inter-City League game against Maryville, like Corral might burn Maryville for the second time.

It was the second game of a doubleheader at Wilson Park Sunday night. Corral was trying to close a two-run gap. "I thought," Corral coach Ken Crawford said, "that when we came from behind in the first game we'd be able to blow them out in the second game."

It became quickly obvious, though, Maryville had other ideas. Maryville's portly pitcher Steve "Suds" Mistianic kept the Corral hitters frustrated with a variety of breaking pitches. And it was clear after the first few innings. There would be no Corral blow-out today.

After Corral's 3-2, eight-inning win in the first game, Maryville salvaged the nightcap 6-1.

"Boy, I really feel like a coach now," Crawford said after Corral scored an eighth inning run to win the first game. "I feel like I got some gray hairs from that one."

A good deal of coach Crawford's success may have resulted in his choice of pitchers. Pitcher Crawford allowed Maryville only five hits, good for two runs in the opener. Both Maryville runs came in the second inning. Dave Murphy and Jamie Semanion both had RBI singles in the inning as Maryville established a lead that would last until the fifth.

That's when Corral finally got on the scoreboard. Jeff Scarborough led off the Corral fifth with a walk. After two strike-outs, though, he had gone no further than second. But Scarborough was able to score when Eldon Warfield singled. It was 2-1.

Warfield's hit was one of only four Corral managed in the game. But thanks to some faulty Maryville defense, Corral tied the score in the seventh without a hit. Jeff Stamper reached first on an error, went to third on another error, and scored on Jody Fallon's sacrifice fly.

The run tied the game, 2-2, and set the stage for extra innings. In the eighth Maryville won when Mark Webb singled, stole second, then scored on Brian Sikes single.

The come-from-behind opening game win had Corral high for a sweep. But the nightcap turned into what seemed a replay of the first game, as pair of first inning runs off Corral's Randy Lyerla, when Brad Gregor's single scored Jamie Semanion and Dennis Decoy. Maryville collected four hits in the inning, but Lyerla settled down and avoided further damage.

Maryville held the two-run lead until the third, when Corral scored its only run of the game. An error by Maryville's left fielder allowed Warfield to score from second after he had walked and advanced on Tom Greco's single.

Lyerla, meanwhile, was holding Maryville's offense in check. He allowed only one hit.

Maryville led the two-run game until the third, when Corral scored its only run of the game. An error by Maryville's left fielder allowed Warfield to score from second after he had walked and advanced on Tom Greco's single.

one other hit after the first, keeping Corral close until the seventh. Then Maryville erupted for four runs. Three consecutive doubles did much of the damage, but Corral's defensive blunders also contributed to the rally.

A wild pitch, three wild throws on pick-off attempts, and two errant throws on Maryville's steal attempts let Maryville tie the win.

Bethalto Eagles end Granite South's season

By KEVIN ALLEN
Of the Press-Record

BETHALTO — One after another, the Granite City South pitchers made the walk. From the bullpen to the mound, then back to the bench. The Warriors were in trouble.

Bethalto Civic Memorial's Eagles went through four Warrior hurlers, in the sixth inning breaking a 2-2 tie game wide open. The Eagles staff almost as fast as they scored runs.

When it was over, Civic Memorial emerged with a 7-2 lead. The Warriors were left with an inning to somehow come up with five runs — a difficult task, considering the ease with which Bethalto's pitcher Brad Thomas was dealing with the Warriors.

Too difficult a task. The Eagles beat the Warriors 7-2, dropping South out of regional tournament competition and ending the Warriors season.

"What can you say," South coach Babe Champion said. "If you don't handle the competition you don't deserve to go on. We gave it a good shot, but it wasn't enough."

Bethalto's Thomas represented one of the biggest obstacles for the Warriors to overcome. The junior hurler allowed South its two runs on only four scattered hits. A measure of his performance was the string of 12 consecutive Warrior batters whom Thomas set down.

"They got pretty good pitching," Champion said. "Their guy did a good job. Even though he got hurt a little, he came back."

Champion was referring to a play that led to the Warriors' second of two runs. It occurred when Kevin Sykes grounded to first. Thomas, covering the base, was down momentarily after colliding with Sykes.

Briefly, Thomas lost his mastery of the Warriors. Rich Cope singled Sykes to third, and John Linhart then drove home Sykes with a sacrifice fly. But the Bethalto pitcher regained his composure in time to avoid further damage, stranding three South runners to end the inning.

South had tied the score, but remained so only shortly. Bethalto sent nine batters to the plate in the bottom of the sixth, and scored five runs on only three hits. Jeff Lile's double was one of the three hits. It drove home the eventual winning run. But for good measure, the Eagles' Larry Hawkins and Bob King each chipped in RBI singles.

Three Warrior pitchers — Tom McGowan, Randy Cann, and Linhart — tried unsuccessfully to stop the Eagle rally. The problem was one that has troubled the Warriors all year.

"We've had our problems pitching," Champion said. "We went with mostly young kids, but that's really no excuse. We just didn't have it when we needed it."

South pitching did have it for the first five innings. Stavler Cann, who returned in the sixth, went three fairly strong innings, allowing only one run. That came in the third, when Hawkins singled, stole second, and scored on an error.

Rick Dally replaced Cann with one out in the fourth, and retired the Eagles with the bases loaded.

Bethalto took a 2-1 lead in the fifth on back-to-back singles by Hawkins and Dave Hargrave and a sacrifice fly by King.

South's first run came in the first. Cope walked, went to third on Linhart's single, and scored on a passed ball.

South netters win at state tennis meet

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — Hinsdale Central won the team championship here Saturday at the annual Illinois High School Association (IHSAA) State Boys Tennis Meet.

Hinsdale finished just barely ahead of Barrington and Deerfield, who tied for second. Belleville West finished in ninth place with 13½ points. Granite City South had three points.

The top ten final teams were: Hinsdale Central 18, Barrington and Deerfield 17, New Trier East of Winnetka 16½, Oak Forest 16, LaGrange (Lyons) 15½, Aurora West 14½, Bloomington 14, Belleville West 13½ and Lake Forest 12½.

Granite City South's Pat Theis defeated Bob Heatherington of Hoffman Estates 6-0, 6-1 in the first round of action. However, teammate Tom Longos was not as fortunate. He lost to Jeff Brandt of Bloomington 6-3, 6-4 in the first round.

In the first round of consolation, Longos lost to Greg Stanwood of Deerfield by scores of 6-4, 2-6, 4-6. In the second round of singles action, Theis was defeated by J.D. Skinnock of Springfield Senior High, 6-1, 6-1.

In doubles action, George Sykes and John Menendez of Granite City South defeated Dave Pilech and Bryan three of Reavis High, completely dominating them by scores of 6-0, 6-0 in the first round.

Ed Schmulbach and Terry Malench, South's other team were beaten by Bill Stafelski and Tom Frye from New Trier East in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

In second round doubles action, Sykes and Menendez were defeated by Glenn French and Todd Leson of Deerfield by scores of 6-2, 6-0. In the first round of doubles consolation, Schmulbach and Malench defeated John McMahon and Jeff Reeds of Chicago Richards 6-0, 6-2.

In the second round of consolation, Sykes and Menendez defeated David Solomon and Jeff Paige of Cairo 6-3, 4-6, 6-4. Schmulbach and Malench weren't as fortunate, however. They were beaten by Mark Reed and Scott Pagels of Dundee 6-2, 7-6.

Sykes and Menendez finally bit the dust in the consolation third round. They were eliminated when Ron Bordeaux and Rick Farnan of Peoria defeated them 6-2, 7-6.

Finally... Cougars sign 6-11 cage star

By AL BARNES
For the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — That tall man, that domineering towering man whom all college basketball coaches dream about and beat the bushes to locate and recruit, may have been discovered and signed by Jim Dudley, varsity mentor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville since 1971.

Joseph Pickowitz, a six-foot, eleven-inch native of Mattoon, just possibly may be that player in the Cougars' cage future. Pickowitz has signed a letter of intent to enroll at SIUE this coming 1980-81 school year. He starred for Coach Bob Avery at Mattoon High School and then, the past two years, was a key member of the Lake Land Junior College basketball team of Coach Doug Ferguson.

At Lake Land, where Dudley inaugurated basketball when the school opened in the late sixties, Pickowitz was chosen as an All-Central Illinois Athletic Conference player. His very good, he averaged 11 points and 10 rebounds per game.

A rugged 200-pounder, the elongated Pickowitz shot a sensational 54 percent from the floor and paced the Lakers to a 24-10 season over the 1979-80 campaign. He was a key member of the team as it won the junior college sectional playoffs and advanced to the state finals of the regional IV.

According to Dudley: "Joe is an excellent postman. He should be able to come in and play one of our post spots immediately. He has a fine shooting touch and has very good court speed. He can really get up and down the floor and plays hard at both ends of the court, as shown by the fact that he got the same number offensive and defensive rebounds."

The Cougars will lose their "big man," Bill Branz, by graduation. He starred four years for SIUE.

Coach Ferguson commented: "Joe is an extremely hard worker who should help the Cougars. Every game at Lake Land, he showed improvement and he should improve even more his junior and senior years."

James, Kessler sign at ISU

BLOOMINGTON — Two members of Granite City South High School's 1979 Illinois High School Association championship soccer team have declared their intent to attend Illinois State University and play soccer for the Redbirds.

David James, a midfielder, and Craig Kessler, a midfielder and forward, both were consistent performers for coach Gene Baker's champions last fall. They are the first two recruits to be signed by Illinois State coach Brian Foster.

"James is a potential starter for us as a freshman," said Fritzen. "He is technically very good, and a real work horse on the field."

James, a 6-1, 155-pounder, was a two-year starter for Granite City South, which has four straight IHSA soccer champions.

Kessler is 6-2, 160-pounds and brings a specific skill to ISU that Fritzen believes has been lacking.

"He can throw the ball in close to 50 yards," said Fritzen. "Kessler will add an element of surprise to our attack."

By soccer standards, James and Kessler are much taller than the average player. "We have not had the tall players who are strong at heading the ball," said Fritzen. "When you have tall men, it helps turn more scoring opportunities into scores."

Fritzen also likes the two players' winning backgrounds.

"They know a lot about winning," he said. "Granite City South has more soccer championships than any other Illinois school."

Granite City South has won five of the eight IHSA soccer titles, including four in a row.

JOHN VRENICK of Granite City South, goes for a throw at third base Thursday during action in his team's loss to Bethalto in the first round of the Class 2A Regional.

GRANITE CITY — Larry Phillips of Springfield, Mo., lead every lap to win the 25 lap feature and won the opening day of the "Tombsone Rally" at the Tri-City Speedway Saturday night.

Bloomington, Ind., C. C. Corbin of E. Alton, Ill., Joe Kosiski of Omaha, Neb., Mike Wallace of Arnold, Mo., and Ed Knaebel of Jefferson City, Mo.

Ron Fisher set a new track record in time trials with 23.857 seconds over the half mile clay track and erasing

Larry Phillips old mark of 24.842 seconds set a year ago. Don Hobbs of Bloomington, Ind., won the first heat over Ron Fisher, Kevin Gundaker of St. Louis and Steve McGuire of Phoenix, Ariz.

Ed Knaebel won the second heat over Len Gittermeier of St. Charles, Mo., Fred Stotter of Overland, Mo., and John J. Yearley of Champagne, Ill.

Rob Jones of Creve Coeur, Mo., won the third heat over

Cougars eliminated

EDWARDSVILLE — Jane Sumner and Deb Ryals, two members of the women's track and field team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, were eliminated from competition in the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) Division II national meet.

The meet was held in Eugene, Ore., May 23-24. Sumner came in 19th place in the discus, with a throw of 146'8". Ryals also came in 19th in her event, the high jump.

The next action will be May 30-31, in the Track and Field Association (FTA)-USA Championships, held in Wichita, Kan.

SIUE will send four members of the team to the FTA-USA Championships. The four will be Sumner, Ryals, Chris Bugnitz and Pat Almond.

Cougar netters make it look easy

By AL BARNES
For the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The members of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville tennis team made it look almost easy as they rolled to their third straight Division II championship of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, May 18-19.

Paced by their four-time All-American, Juan Farrow, the Cougars won all but four of a possible 25 points in the 18th Annual NCAA Division II tournament, hosted by the Cougars and their coach, Kent DeMars.

Farrow, in his relentless march to his third national championship in four years at SIUE, played such outstanding tennis that he made it look very simple, which it wasn't.

But Farrow's game, like his teammates — Hugo Nunez, Raimo

O'Jala, Ray Kuzava, Garth Naumoff, Jorma Leppanen and Sujit Fernando — honed to razor-sharpness by SIUE's schedule of Division I (big schools) competition prior to the tournament, blitted cre-20 other schools entered in the meet.

Like last year, the Cougars again came down to the singles final without a chance of losing since there were two SIUE players in the final contest. Last year, as Farrow attempted to win his third straight singles crown, his teammate Arjun Fernando beat him in a thrilling three-set match. Farrow and Fernando then teamed to win the doubles crown.

This year, Nicholls State U.'s Juan Hidalgo had the dubious task of preventing the singles final from being — again — an all-SIUE affair. SIUE freshman Hugo Nunez was his last obstacle. And, there for a moment, it appeared that Hidalgo was heading for a shoot-out with Farrow.

Hidalgo, the Bounding Basque from Spain, himself just a freshman, won the opening set from Farrow and leaped out to a 5-2 lead in the decisive second set. But, Nunez wasn't finished. He regrouped and won the middle set and ran it out 6-1, in the third set to win and earn a chance at Farrow.

Except for some valuable tournament experience, Nunez was crushed by Farrow in the singles final, 6-3, 6-2.

In the battle for the meet's doubles crown, the Cougars' duo of Farrow and Nunez managed to give the large and enthusiastic Sunday afternoon crowd which braced the result of a little thrill.

After winning the first set, 6-1, against Nicholls State's Bjorkjorn Fasth and Hidalgo, Farrow and Nunez seemed to relax somewhat and the crowd sensed a possible upset as the singles final, 6-3, 6-2.

But the Cougars pulled their game back together and won the event in two sets, 7-5.

The victory qualified the Cougars' Farrow, Nunez, O'Jala and Naumoff for the NCAA Division I tournament at the University of Georgia at Athens, starting today (Thursday).

Farrow's string of victories in the tournament brought his record to 25-6, mostly against NCAA Division I schools. Likewise, Nunez posted a brilliant 19-10 record and O'Jala was 16-12. The Cougars' No. 1 doubles duo of Farrow and Nunez racked up an impressive 21-6 record and Garth Naumoff and O'Jala finished with a

Madison youth to sign for softball

Madison boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 17 years may register for a summer softball program at 4 p.m. Thursday at the Madison Recreation Center, 7th and Lee streets. Judy Donaldson of the Madison Department said teams will be organized and games will be scheduled at diamonds located on 3rd Street and 12th Street. The softball program will start in June, with a specific date to be announced later.

Netters

Highly respectable 16-10. During the season, the Cougars battled the Bulldogs of the University of Georgia down to the wire before losing a cliff-hanger, 5-4. The SIUE first three single players won their matches, but were only able to win the doubles match. That match was played at Athens, Ga., early in the year.

ROLE POSITION. Granite City South's Dave Houston (right) lines up for the start of his heat of the 1600 meter (mile) run Friday afternoon at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston. Even though he had the second-fastest district qualifying time, Houston did not advance to the Saturday finals in the event.

downpour had threatened times and distances and looked as if to promise a miserable weekend. But about 9:30 a.m., the skies cleared. At about 10:30, the sun actually showed itself. By noon, it was sunny and hot.

Adams would be the first of the two to go. The pole vault is a long, drawn out event. One of the first to start, it is usually one of the last to finish. Adams cleared the first preliminary height without much trouble. Some of the field felt by the wayside. Then came 13 feet. Adams had cleared it this season many times. He cleared it this time. Then came the waiting.

On his first attempt at 13'6", Adams looked good for it. He cleared the bar on the way over, but barely nicked it on his way down. When he landed it the pit, the bar was still up. But before he could scramble out, it fell. It seemed to fall in slow motion. "I came close," said Adams. "I'll get it next time. No sweat. But the next time, Adams hit the bar harder on his way down. The bar was in the pit the same time he was. As the minutes rolled by before his final attempt, they seemed to turn into hours. Finally, the voice Centralia coach Dwight Simmons, the pole vault judge, rang out. "Adams up!"

He jumped to his feet. "This is it," he said. "My last try. If I don't get it this time, I'm out. It's all in the speed on the runway!"

He showed workers where he wanted the standards holding the bar placed. Then he trotted to the end of the runway and stood there. Concentrating. It was him

Rollback of taxes among the bills being watched here

It's a rollercoaster ride when dealing with government-related conditions, since the rules of the game are constantly changing. This is particularly true at this time of the year, when the General Assembly is winding up its deliberations, and in the late summer, when the governor is deciding what to sign, amend or veto.

Last week, the Illinois House by 123-26 approved a bill to give taxpayers the option to cut back local tax rates by up to 25 percent through an election. The 90 home rule units, such as Granite City, wouldn't be affected.

A referendum to roll back taxes could be called if 10 percent or 1,000 of the registered voters of a governmental unit signed petitions. It isn't known whether the Senate and governor will look with favor on the proposal, but it could markedly alter the environment for taxation and municipal services in many communities, if it becomes law.

Meanwhile, a partisan tug-of-war is continuing over ways in which to reduce reliance on the sales tax. Democrats are trying to eliminate it entirely on foods and medicines over three years, by ending it completely on a gradually increasing list of food and drug items. Republicans favor phasing out the food and medicine sales tax across the board, at a reduction of a penny a year.

The Illinois Senate last week voted 49-3 to modify worker compensation costs, but deleted a requirement that on-the-job injuries be defined and given a cash value. Industries say the compensation rules differ from other states and are driving them from Illinois; employees argue that the payments are justified, and downplay reports that abuses are occurring.

Bills to limit increases in the tax assessment of farmland to eight percent this year passed, both houses of the legislature Thursday.

But the House the same day delayed a bill that opponents said might shift some of the property tax burden away from businesses and onto home owners; it would have defined real and personal property placed on tax rolls after Jan. 1, 1981.

Exactly what new laws have been enacted won't be known until the dust of the legislative session has settled many weeks from now. But the Assembly never fails to make some drastic changes, and both citizens and public officials will remain a bit uneasy until the picture has cleared.

FIRST GRANITE CITY SAVINGS EXPANSION

is being approved by Fred R. Williams, president. There will be remodeling and an increase in the size of the existing building at 1529 Johnson Road. Goal is to offer the same services as the downtown location. He cited growth in the last five years and feels this area will continue to grow. Pictured left to right are Williams; Charles C. Morris, president of Architectural Associates, Inc., building designer; and Chuck Vollman of Vollman Advertising, First Savings advertising agent and building consultant. The new look will retain the Spanish architecture theme at 1529 Johnson. Construction will begin in the fall under present plans.

Danger diminishing from gasoline leak

Pumping operations to remove as much as 10,000 gallons of premium lead-free gasoline from the ground in the vicinity of Nameoki and Fehling roads continued during the weekend and the holiday, city officials said today.

A leak in a suction hose from an underground gasoline tank to a pump was discovered during pressure tests at the Nameoki Standard station at that intersection, but it has not been determined if that was the cause of the underground gasoline.

Officials of Standard Oil Co. brought pumping equipment to the scene Friday and were pumping about 200 gallons of gasoline a day from a hole dug near the station.

C. D. Peters Construction Co. was hired to dig a kind of a well from which the underground gasoline could be retrieved. A deep hole was dug and filled with rock, allowing the gasoline to collect so it could be pumped out.

A standard then pumped from the hole twice Friday, getting about 100 gallons out each time. The pumping continued during the weekend.

When pumping operations began, there were 28 inches of gasoline in the hole. By Friday, the level had been reduced to 22 inches.

This morning, officials report the level is 19 inches and there is water on the bottom, indicating the gasoline does not go any deeper in the ground. Gasoline is lighter than water and will "float" on the top of the ground water level.

A gasoline odor has been reported in the area since February and attempts to pinpoint the source intensified when it was discovered that gasoline was entering the city's sanitary sewers.

Residents of the 2900 block of Grand Avenue reported gasoline fumes, apparently from the sewers, had backed up into their basements, creating what Mayor Paul Schuler called "a potentially dangerous situation."

City Engineer Monroe Brewer praised the oil companies and service station operators in the area "for their genuine concern, assistance offered to the city in identifying and alleviating the problem."

Standard has drained the premium unleaded tank at its station there and the problem seems to be diminishing, Brewer said, noting the inflow of gasoline into the sanitary sewers has eased and the danger from gasoline fumes in the sewers seems to be over.

Nude 'bomb' strikes city

Answering a call that a nude man was leaning against a building in the 2200 block of Madison Avenue at 11:38 p.m. Sunday, police arriving near the scene saw three nude men. The three began running, and a man was caught in the act between Grand and Madison avenues, hiding in weeds. Officers said they made the arrest after seeing a bare posterior protruding above the weeds. Harold D. Hutchings, 19, of the 2200 block of Grand Avenue was then charged with disorderly conduct and was taken to the Granite City jail pending the posting of a $35 bond.

The suspect allegedly was wearing only red and white socks and red tennis shoes. A popular current motion picture is entitled "The Nude Bomb."

Banking lobby, 6 car lanes

Work is on schedule in construction of a First Granite City National Bank remote deposit facility located in the Bellemeor Village Shopping Center at Nameoki Road and Jill Avenue.

When completed, the facility will consist of a walk-in lobby, including operational and storage space, and a six-lane drive-through auto bank.

The lobby will be located within an existing building between the Singer Sewing Machine Co. and the Scotchwash Laundromat. The entrance will face the present parking lot and Nameoki Road.

The auto bank will be located in the now vacant area at the rear of the building that will contain the bank lobby. Entry to the auto bank will be from Jill Avenue.

Remodeling work began several weeks ago for the bank lobby's operational and storage area. The lobby area will contain five teller stations, a new account area, customer lounge and office for the facility manager.

The scheduled opening date of the lobby portion of the facility is July 1.

Remodeling work at the auto bank area in preparation for hard surfacing has begun, as well as foundation construction for the auto bank building.

The auto bank will be completely self-contained but will be connected to the operational area of the main building by an interior lane and a pneumatic tube system.

The auto bank will contain a direct-serve lane for commercial transactions, and five remote stations served by a Debiold captive carrier system. This is the same system in use at the present downtown auto bank facility.

The auto bank building is being constructed off-site and will be delivered complete. The scheduled delivery date for the auto bank building is July 1, and the auto bank is expected to be operational on July 15.

Included in the overall project is demolition of a vacant service station on the corner of Jill Avenue and Nameoki Road, and surfacing of the area to provide additional parking.

Will spur drive for unpaid sewer fees

A new effort to collect delinquent sewage treatment fees due the Metro-East Sanitary District will be initiated in an effort to update the billing systems and improve collections for the Lansdowne and Cahokia sewage treatment plants operated by the district, trustees decided during a meeting Thursday.

Russell Robinson, board president, said collection of unpaid treatment fees which exceed $300,000, is essential to increase the cash flow of both treatment plant accounts to avoid payless paydays for the seven employees who are employed in the district's pollution department.

Robinson noted that the first billing has just been mailed under a new billing system handled by the First Granite City National Bank.

He said he expects collections to improve under the new billing system handled by an outside firm.

Board members discussed the Metro-East Sanitary District's problems with the district's auditors during Thursday's meeting.

Robinson said the auditor's representative told board members that internal control weaknesses in billing and collections has made it difficult to determine exactly the unpaid amounts due the Lansdowne and Cahokia treatment systems.

Venice and Madison residents, as well as most of East St. Louis township are served by the red and white socks and red tennis shoes. A popular current motion picture is entitled "The Nude Bomb."

Banking official ends 9 days of testimony

After nine days on the witness stand, Albion Fenderson, senior vice-president of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago, was excused as the fourth week of the trial of Jim Green versus the Alton Telegraph concluded Friday afternoon. The trial was expected to continue this morning.

Green seeks $15 million from the Telegraph and two of its former reporters, alleging a confidential memo sent by the reporters to the U.S. Justice Department was responsible for the cutoff of loans to Green in 1969, which caused his construction empire to collapse.

The Justice Department wrote a letter to the FHBLB, which Fenderson saw before he approved action cutting off Green's credit, cross examination by Rex Carr, Green's attorney, emphasized during the nine days of testimony by Fenderson.

However, the witness refused to budge in his testimony that the Justice Department letter was "not in my mind" when he approved the action of the board of the former Plaza First Federal Savings and Loan Association halting all loans, including loans needed by Green to complete several major projects then underway.

Carr contended that some of Fenderson's answers showed that the memo "was in his mind then and now," and Fenderson again denied it.

Detailed testimony about the status of Plaza's financial worth and Green's loans have occupied much of the last week. In 1969, Plaza's net worth was about $4,000,000 and had loaned Green nearly $3,000,000, according to Fenderson. It would have been unlawful for the association to make another loan which would have loaned more to Green than Plaza's net worth, Fenderson testified.

Carr contended that the Telegraph, is attempting to show that the cutoff of funds to Green had nothing to do with the memo to the Justice Department.

Fenderson was the first witness called by Carr as the defense began its case Tuesday, May 13. The next witness expected to be called by Carr is Edward A. Eckert, who was one of Fenderson's top assistants when the 1969 cutoff of funds to Green was approved.
